Golden Apple Award
Feb. 2, 2009

Purple may be the color of team spirit at Skyview High School, but Terri Woodward is also helping spread appreciation for green.

For the past two years, Terri has spent countless hours working with the Skyview Green Club. She helped build bins to store recyclable items, coordinated with the Green Club to empty and maintain the bins and helps students collect paper, cans, bottles and other recycling materials at the school.

She keeps the school motivated in its efforts by sending out weekly announcements of the number of pounds of recycling that have been collected. Terri also advertises the benefits of being green and disseminates articles about conservation.

Her time, her own vehicle and her determination have all been selflessly given to the support the Green Club. And it's all done with an attitude of encouragement and support.

Principal Randy Neill said, "She works well with the students and staff to motivate the whole school to get behind this program. She has been positive and proactive in her approach. She rarely criticizes, but she instead offers practical and creative solutions for improving our school. She has a great rapport with students, parents and staff."

We, the Kenai Peninsula Borough School District Board of Education are proud to recognize Terri Woodward for nurturing a sense of conservation in students and helping the green movement grow at Skyview High School.
